

Assignment 2. Networking Event

Samantha Campbell

Presented To:	Presented By:	Guest Speaker:
SHCRDV-O Class	Samantha Campbell	Dame Pieter Stewart

(FNZ (2021) Dame Pieter Stewart on twenty years of New Zealand Fashion Week - FashionNZ, FashionNZ, <https://www.fashionz.co.nz/dame-pieter-stewart-on-twenty-years-of-new-zealand-fashion-week/>, accessed 23 March 2026.)

Table of Contents

Networking Contact List	I.
Email To Contacts	II.
Response from Contacts	III.
Reflection	IV.
Questions, and Introduction on Speed working event:	V.

Industry Contact Network List - Samantha Campbell
Assignment 2: Networking Report & Event — Global Fashion Marketing
No.	Full Name	Role / Position	Organisation / Company	Industry Sector	Location	Email	Phone	LinkedIn URL	Instagram Handle	How You Met	Notes / Relevance
1	Stella Charnley	Co-ordinator & Social Media manager	Angel Devine	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Stelladaisy@gmail.com	(021) 088 51007	https://www.linkedin.com/in/stellacharnley/	@stellacharnley	Met in person through our parents.	Stella completed a Bachelor's degree in Fashion Marketing. I personally know Stella, making this assignment achievable. Her role at Angel Devine is a multi-brand fashion store, and she is a member of the fashion community. She's just a few steps ahead.
2	Holly Camp	Store Manger and buyer	Seletti concept store	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Holly@seletti.co.nz	(027) 500 1005	Non Applicable	@hollyCamp	Family friends	I worked with Holly at Seletti. She was a buyer and went to fashion week and showrooms in Europe, meeting Gianni, etc. Giving me insight into concept stores overseas, as Seletti is a multi-brand flagship store, giving placement opportunities.
3	Anna Cooney	Owner of fashion business and buyer	Seletti concept store	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Anna@seletti.co.nz	(021) 226200	https://www.linkedin.com/in/anna-cooney-64987233/	@Seleticconceptstore	worked at seletti and met my boss	Anna was my boss when I worked at Seletti Concept Store. During my time working with her, I discovered my passion for fashion and developed a strong interest in the brands she carried. She offered valuable insights into the commercial and creative decisions involved in running a flagship store, which was especially relevant as I assisted her with social media marketing. Her international connections, such as with brands like Gianni, have also helped me build strong connections abroad.
4	Ellie Shuttleworth	Store Manager/ Retail Assistant	Bunnies Arrowtown	fashion	Queenstown NZ	ellie.shuttleworth7@gmail.com	(027) 392 3960	Non Applicable	@elliesshuttleworth	School friends	Ellie's insights into the Arrowtown Bunnies store are a sustainable business as it's a resale company - circular business model. This brand sells top designer clothing for resale in Arrowtown, which is useful insight for a local like me.
5	Felicity Hannay	Owner of fashion business	The Tailor and His lover	fashion	Waiheke NZ	Hello@tailorandhislover.com	(022) 546 6043	Non Applicable	@thetailorandhislover	Boyfriends Grandmas	Felicity is a boutique fashion business owner who sources beautiful linen pieces from her former Ball store, now bringing them to New Zealand to sell. Her experience building and running her own small fashion business, away from traditional production models, gives real insight into independent brand ownership, sourcing, and the realities of creating a retail associate understanding helps me connect with other brands and gives me insight into the customer experience and how they interpret fashion marketing in the retail store where they work, and how it connects with the community. Especially in AU, as I haven't yet been knowledgeable on the AU retail sectors in that country, only NZ so far, as I haven't been there.
6	Pieter Stewart	Founder of NZFW in 2000	Former owner of New Zealand fashion week	fashion	Christchurch NZ	Pieter@pieterstewart.com	(021) 324 907	https://www.linkedin.com/in/pieter-stewart-13404a31/	non applicable	Grandmas best friend	Dame Pieter Stewart was the founder of NZFW for 20 years. She is my Grandmas best friend. I have known her for my whole life and she has been in New Zealand for fashion. She is directly aligned with my career and is a retail associate understanding helps me connect with other brands and gives me insight into the customer experience and how they interpret fashion marketing in the retail store where they work, and how it connects with the community. Especially in AU, as I haven't yet been knowledgeable on the AU retail sectors in that country, only NZ so far, as I haven't been there.
7	Lulu Ferguson	Sales associate	Maggie Marilyn	fashion	Sydney AU	Lucia.j.ferguson@gmail.com	(021) 510 248	https://www.linkedin.com/in/lucia-ferguson-256392368/	@luluferguson	Freind from Auckland, met through other friends	Retail associate understanding helps connect to other brands and can give insight into the retail sector in Australia, as I have not been to Australia, fashion community.
8	Maisie Grufferty	Sales associate	Lorena Jane	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Maisiegrufferty05@gmail.com	(027) 216 1717	https://www.linkedin.com/in/maisie-grufferty-136150380/	@maisiegrufferty	School friends	Maisie is the daughter of Pieter Stewart, she is one of my mum's friends. Maisie played a key role in growing NZFW, and her hands-on experience managing my mum's old friend the event. I would also like to be knowledgeable on event management for my career as I find myself very organised. So Maisie is a very valuable contact as I look at her insight of fashion industry.
9	Myken Stewart	Brand Manager NZFW	NZ fashion week	fashion	Christchurch NZ	Non applicable	(021) 540 101	https://www.linkedin.com/in/mykenstewart/	@mykenstewart	Myken is Pieter Stewart's daughter; she is one of my mum's friends. Maisie played a key role in growing NZFW, and her hands-on experience managing my mum's old friend the event. I would also like to be knowledgeable on event management for my career as I find myself very organised. So Maisie is a very valuable contact as I look at her insight of fashion industry.
10	Drina Broadbridge	Sales associate and business rental owner	Angel Devine and dressrentalqt, mecca	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Drinabrid@gmail.com	(021) 2174636	https://www.linkedin.com/in/alexandrin@drinabroadbridge/	@drinabroadbridge	School friend and co-owner of a dress rental company called dressrentalQT. Experience across platforms as an owner and a retail associate can allow me to see what it's like to manage both sectors at the same time.
11	Milly Wilkstrim	Sales associate and business rental owner	Angel Devine and dressrentalqt, decuja	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Millywilkstrim@gmail.com	(027) 301 0055	https://www.linkedin.com/in/milly-wilkstrim-642610368/	@millywilkstrim	School friend and co-owner of a dress rental company called dressrentalQT. Experience across platforms as an owner and a retail associate can allow me to see what it's like to manage both sectors at the same time.
12	Brittney McDowell	Sustainable fashion service founder	Designer arket Place on facebook	fashion	Christchurch NZ	brittneymcdowell.media@gmail.com	(027) 899 615	Non Applicable	@brittneymcdowell	NZ influencer, met her at aces event in goals. The community-driven platform enables consumers to access fashion marketing and circular consumption without even realising it. When I asked then followed her so Brittney if I could use her in this network, she was unsure of her role in fashion, however, when I explained my knowledge just from her social DM her for a

Industry Contact Network List - Samantha Campbell

Assignment 2: Networking Report & Event - Collins Fashion Marketing

No	Full Name	Role / Position	Organisation / Company	Industry Sector	Location	Email	Phone	Linkedin URL	Instagram Handle	How You Met	Notes / Relevance
13	Spencer Anderson	Sales associate	Seletti concept store	fashion	Queenstown NZ	spencerjadeanderson@gmail	(027) 472 0830	Non Applicable	@spencerjadeanderson	Friend	Spencer has a natural ability to connect with people and really listen -- a skill I admire and hope to develop in my own career. Her experience working alongside me in retail combined with her background in wedding event management
14	Jen Catley	Business owners	Bunnies	fashion	Queenstown NZ	bunnies.arrowtown@gmail.	(021) 495 610	https://www.linkedin.com/in/jennifer-catley-347a961/	@bunniesarrowtown	Friend of a friend	Jen is Connected through my friend Ellie who works there. Jen owns Bunnies -- a circular resale boutique in Arrowtown that stocks top designer wear sourced from the local community. I find this business model particularly fascinating as it combines high-end fashion with sustainable resale practices.
15	Lucy Wright	Social marketing and retail associate	Tru Gym, Angel devine and Ro and Frankie	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Lucywright1320@gmail.com	(027) 555 4656	Non Applicable	@lucy.evewright	School friends	Lucy Wright is school friend who is already doing exactly what I want to do, working in social media marketing across fashion and lifestyle brands. Being able to chat to a friend about her experience is a great way to gain real and honest insight into the industry.
16	Cate Denny	Sales associate	The Dancers Wardobe	fashion	Auckland NZ	Cate.denny@gmail.com	(021) 0764 667	https://www.linkedin.com/in/cate-denny-5831703d1/	@catedenny_	Freind from university	Retail associate understanding helps connect to other brands and can give me insight into the customer experience and how they interpret fashion marketing in the retail store where they work, and how connects with community.
17	Grace Bridgeman	Brand ambassador, eperimental marketing, sponsership activation	farmers sampling, supermarkets for cookies and kids crafts zone crimas wrapping	Brand Marketing	Auckland NZ	Grace.bridgeman@icloud.com	(021) 296 3341	https://www.linkedin.com/in/grace-bridgeman-3142f93239/	@gracebridgeman_	Freind from university	Grace connection notes vary differently from most, my connections about fashion. She more indulges into large scale retail marketing gives me a great person to talk to about how brands connect with their customers in creative and engaging ways.
18	Anna Henkenhalf	Sales associate	Seletti Concept store	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Zahenkenhalf@icloud.com	(027) 439 2662	Non Applicable	@annaamonika	School friends	Retail associate understanding helps connect to other brands and can give me insight into the customer experience and how they interpret fashion marketing in the retail store where they work, and how connects with community.
19	Julia Lima	Client experience and content coordinator	Tru Gym and brand	Brand Marketing	Queenstown NZ	Julianlima@gmail.com	(021) 962 005	https://www.linkedin.com/in/julialimp-550860317/	@_julialima_	Friend	Julia told me she creates a positive and empowering environment at Tru while creating content for Tru Athleisures activewear line to promote across the website and social media. This understanding gives me relevance for connecting on how a lifestyle brand builds online connections, connect to my understanding with a fashion marketing degree.
20	Claire Brinsley	Fashion brand designer and owner	Claire Bloom	fashion	Queenstown NZ	Claire@clairebloom.co.nz	(027) 280 2226	Non Applicable	@clairebloom	My neighbor	Claire's experience as a fashion designer and label, that she doesnt run anymore but past knowledge would show brand idenity, marketing strategys and espessically how she worked in QT where I lived in NZ

The image displays three sequential screenshots of an email client interface, showing a single email message being sent to different recipients. The email content is consistent across all three screenshots.

Recipient 1: Pieter Stewart

Header: To: Pieter Stewart

Message Info: iMessage, Today 2:03 PM

Body:

Hi Pieter,

It's Samantha Campbell, Anita and Malcolm Brown granddaughter. I am currently completing a Bachelor of Fashion Marketing at Collarts University in Melbourne, online from New Zealand.

I am reaching out to you due to your professional involvement in the fashion industry, your work founding New Zealand Fashion Week in 2000 holds a special significance to me. You helped establish a platform that has shaped the careers of so many New Zealand designers. Your engagement and dedication has been notable in our community and beneficial to the scene.

I would love to invite you to a Speed Networking Event hosted by Collarts on Tuesday 7th April, 6-7pm AEST (8-9pm NZST), held online via Zoom. The event connects students with industry professionals through a series of short, focused conversations, and your experience building and leading a major fashion event would offer our cohort an incredible perspective.

With hopes you accept this invitation, this would not only be a tremendous event on its own, but would allow me to gain insight into your profession, generating new knowledge and awareness into the world of sustainable fashion marketing.

Thank you so much for your time and I look forward to hearing from you!

Warm regards,
Samantha Campbell

Bachelor of Fashion Marketing, Collarts University
mailto:Samantha24.campbell@gmail.com
mailto:Scampbe.20241979@mycollarts.edu.au

Footer: Delivered

Recipient 2: Maisie Dunedin

Header: MG, Maisie Dunedin

Message Info: Yesterday 12:32 PM

Body:

Hi Maisie,

How are you! It's Samantha Campbell, and I am currently completing a Bachelor of Fashion Marketing at Collarts University in Melbourne.

I am reaching out to you due to your professional involvement in the fashion industry, and I have been following your work as a Sales Associate and have been really inspired by the way you approach a fashion space. Your ability to build community and communicate brand identity through customer experience and connection is something I am actively working to develop in my own career!

I would love to invite you to a Speed Networking Event hosted by Collarts on Tuesday, 7th April, 6-7pm AEST (8-9pm NZST), held online via Zoom. The event brings together students and industry professionals for a series of short, one-on-one conversations — it is a relaxed and energising format, and your perspective would be incredibly valuable to our cohort.

I hope you accept this invitation; this would not only be a tremendous event on its own but would also allow me to gain insight into your profession, generating new knowledge and awareness of the world of sustainable fashion marketing.

Thank you so much for your time, and I look forward to hearing from you!

Warm regards,
Samantha Campbell

Bachelor of Fashion Marketing, Collarts University
mailto:Samantha24.campbell@gmail.com
mailto:Scampbe.20241979@mycollarts.edu.au

Recipient 3: Stella Charnley

Header: To: Stella Charnley

Message Info: Today 2:23 PM

Body:

Hi Stella,

How are you! It's Samantha Campbell, and I am currently completing a Bachelor of Fashion Marketing at Collarts University in Melbourne.

I am reaching out to you due to your professional involvement in the fashion industry, and I have been following your work as Coordinator and Social Media Manager and have been really inspired by the way you approach digital storytelling within the fashion space. Your ability to build community and communicate brand identity through social media is something I am actively working to develop in my own career!

I would love to invite you to a Speed Networking Event hosted by Collarts on Tuesday 7th April, 6-7pm AEST (8-9pm NZST), held online via Zoom. The event brings together students and industry professionals for a series of short, one-on-one conversations — it is a relaxed and energising format, and your perspective would be incredibly valuable to our cohort.

With hopes you accept this invitation, this would not only be a tremendous event on its own, but would allow me to gain insight into your profession, generating new knowledge and awareness into the world of sustainable fashion marketing.

Thank you so much for your time and I look forward to hearing from you!

Warm regards,
Samantha Campbell

Bachelor of Fashion Marketing, Collarts University
mailto:Samantha24.campbell@gmail.com
mailto:Scampbe.20241979@mycollarts.edu.au

Footer: Delivered

Response from key
Contact:

Dame Pieter Stewart:

PS

Pieter

Hi Pieter,

It's Samantha Campbell, Anita and Malcolm Brown granddaughter. I am currently completing a Bachelor of Fashion Marketing at Collarts University in Melbourne, online from New Zealand.

I am reaching out to you due to your professional involvement in the fashion industry, your work founding New Zealand Fashion Week in 2000 holds a special significance to me. You helped establish a platform that has shaped the careers of so many New Zealand designers. Your engagement and dedication has been notable in our community and beneficial to the scene.

I would love to invite you to a Speed Networking Event hosted by Collarts on Tuesday 7th April, 6-7pm AEST (8-9pm NZST), held online via Zoom. The event connects students with industry professionals through a series of short, focused conversations, and your experience building and leading a major fashion event would offer our cohort an incredible perspective.

With hopes you accept this invitation, this would not only be a tremendous event on its own, but would allow me to gain insight into your profession, generating new knowledge and awareness into the world of sustainable fashion marketing.

Thank you so much for your time and I look forward to hearing from you!

Warm regards,
Samantha Campbell

Bachelor of Fashion Marketing, Collarts University
mailto:Samantha24.campbell@gmail.com
mailto:Scampbe.20241979@mycollarts.edu.au

Saturday 12:58 PM

Hi Sam

Thankyou for thinking of me - I'd be privileged to be part of this.

We'll be in the sounds but wifi is really good there now for connection.

Just let me know if there is any particular information I should have at my fingertips or is it free flow questions?

My email is pieter@pieterstewart.com if you want to send me the diary note & link

Warmest

Pieter

Yesterday 10:08 AM

Morning Pieter! Have just forwarded some brief details regarding questions that may be included in the Zoom call. I also noticed I'll be in the Sounds at the same time! Look forward to hearing from you 🙌 Samantha

Delivered

P

Pieter Stewart

via pieterstewart.onmicrosoft.com

to me

Apr 8, 2026, 10:52 AM (4 days ago)

☆

🗨

↩

⋮

Hi Samantha

I hope you have a good trip back – we watched you loading up in the rain which would have been annoying for you.

I've attached the notes – that hopefully you can make sense of. I wrote them just to get my head in order so as not to wander off subject too much – but because it was all so brief you might as well have all of them.

Stay in touch – I'm more than happy to chat any time.

Warmest

Pieter

...

One attachment

Scanned by Gmail

Add to Drive

1. New Zealand Fashion Week (NZFW) - A major fashion event held annually in New Zealand, showcasing local and international designers.

2. Samantha Campbell - A fashion marketing student at Collarts University, Melbourne, currently completing her Bachelor of Fashion Marketing.

3. Speed Networking Event - A Zoom-based event hosted by Collarts on Tuesday 7th April, 6-7pm AEST (8-9pm NZST), connecting students with industry professionals.

4. Samantha Campbell's Email - Samantha24.campbell@gmail.com and Scampbe.20241979@mycollarts.edu.au

Samantha.docx

S

Samantha Campbell

<scampbe.20241979@mycollarts.edu.au> to Pieter

Apr 9, 2026, 6:07 PM (3 days ago)

☆

🗨

↩

⋮

This is great, thank you so much! I would love to catch up with you as I progress in my career in the industry.

Samantha x

...

↩ Reply

➦ Forward

🗨

📄 Share in chat

Samantha Campbell <scampbe.20241979@mycollarts.edu.au> to pieter@pieterstewart.com ▾

📧 Apr 7, 2026, 11:37 AM (5 days ago)

Reflection

The Collarts Speed Networking event was not quite what I had expected. The format moved very quickly, and at times, I found it difficult to really settle into a conversation with each guest. But overall, I found it fun — it was nice to meet new people, and it was a great and interesting experience, if I did it again I would like to try harder to get more from it, and have more time.

I had prepared an introduction for my guest, but I didn't get the chance to share it. I also found that I mostly heard each guest's life story, rather than receiving the key introductions to their careers and professional development opportunities I had hoped for.

My guest was Dame Pieter Stewart, the founder of New Zealand Fashion Week. When my partner Jess and I were in the breakout room with Dame Pieter, she only had a brief moment to speak, so she later forwarded me an email with responses to the questions she hadn't been able to answer.

She described a career shaped by serendipity: starting in modelling for good pocket money, producing shows, owning a modelling agency, working as an associate to the editor of Fashion Quarterly, moving into PR, and eventually becoming a TV producer. She launched Fashion Week in 2001. Alongside the founder of Fashion Week, it took Pieter two years to convince the New Zealand government to fund what would become NZFW. None of this was planned for her.

From her story, I gathered that not everything has to be mapped out in advance. I often feel pressured to have everything planned, as I'm a very organised person. However, Pieter's journey has shown me that adaptability and openness to opportunity can matter just as much as having a plan.

The speed networking event presented some challenges, especially because I was paired with another student. This meant the five minutes with each guest had to be shared, leaving less time for both my partner and I. For example, during my first rotation, my partner spent most of the time asking questions, and the timer ran out before I had a chance to ask mine. I found this frustrating, particularly because I had prepared thoughtful questions for my guest.

After the session, I sent Pieter my prepared questions, and she kindly replied. She not only answered them but also gave me personalised advice on my next steps in the fashion industry. One important part of her message was that, in a world filled with AI, my uniqueness and the development of my personal style will make me stand out. This idea has stayed with me as I continue working on this career development paper and as I plan my career.

Pieter also encouraged me to study how particular brands stand out, to remember that it's about people and relationships, and to keep developing my own 'look'. Her key piece of advice was to get experience anywhere I can: assist on shoots, help with styling, study content on social media, and volunteer to support campaigns.

This experience shaped and sharpened my career goals. With my aim of travelling and eventually moving from New Zealand to Australia, I gained a clearer sense of what I need to build and bring as a graduate fashion marketing student. During the event, I shared links to my LinkedIn and Instagram profiles with each guest to promote myself in a natural, authentic way and take a more professional step forward.

Questions, and Introduction on Speed working event:

Intro

Hi everyone, I am Samantha Campbell, studying a Bachelor of Fashion Marketing here at Collarts. I have chosen to invite Dame Pieter Stewart as my guest today because she is a lifelong family friend and one of the most influential figures in New Zealand fashion. Dame Pieter founded New Zealand Fashion Week in 2001, ran it for 20 years, and was awarded a Dame Companion of the New Zealand Order of Merit for her services to the fashion industry. As a New Zealander studying fashion marketing, she was the obvious choice — and it is truly special to have her here. Dame Pieter, welcome and thank you so much for joining us today.. (did not get to present but this is what i prepared)

Questions:

1. How did you first get started in the fashion industry, and what led you to found New Zealand Fashion Week?
2. Looking back over 20 years of running NZFW, what would you say was your proudest moment?
3. How do you think social media has changed the way fashion is marketed compared to when you started out?
4. As a fashion marketing student, figuring out my next steps in the fashion industry, what do you think my next steps should be?
5. And finally, as someone just starting out in fashion marketing from New Zealand, what is the one piece of advice you would give me?

Thank you so much for your time and insights today — it has been an absolute honour, and I know I speak for the whole class when I say we are truly grateful to have had you here and excited to hopefully keep in contact with you!
